Acknowledgments

We have many people to thank for assistance in the intellectual and practical development of this guidebook. Many current and former military personnel contributed, reviewed, or helped refine the concepts and skills presented here, but have chosen to remain anonymous. Brian Selmeski, Frank Tortorello, Jennifer Edwards, Remi Hajjar, Allison Abbe, Paula Holmes-Eber, Megan Wallace, Jessica Turnley, and Clementine Fujimura made significant intellectual contributions to our discussions about the content and/or reviewed early versions of material. Jose Esquilin and Chip Marshall were essential and patient partners in developing graphics and producing the initial electronic versions. Lynn Zimmerman of Lucky Dog Design designed and produced the layout for the first edition of the guidebook, making it possible for us to distribute it to a wide audience in accessible form. Most particularly, we wish to thank George Dallas for creating the right environment in which the ideas could be developed and the guidebook written.
