Stay up to date with press updates from the European Parliament

The News Subscription Service allows journalists and media professionals to receive tailored press updates from the European Parliament. Whether you're covering committee work, tracking plenary developments, or following EU policy, this tool helps you stay informed, on your terms.

What is it?

This free and flexible service was developed to simplify how users manage press communication preferences. Subscriptions are automated through the Parliament's secure platform and connected to our professional mailing tool, which delivers around 4,000 targeted mailings per year whilst protecting your personal data. Once registered, users can update their preferences at any time and manage how they receive information.

Why subscribe?

In today's fast-moving media landscape, timely and accurate information is more important than ever. The European Parliament's press updates give you direct access to verified, official content, helping you report clearly, avoid misinformation, and stay ahead of developments.

Who is it for?

The service is primarily designed for:

- Journalists and EU correspondents
- Press officers and media professionals

But may also be of interest to

- Political analysts and institutional observers
- Civil servants and external stakeholders following EU affairs

What you will receive

Subscribers receive timely, targeted mailings from the Parliament's Media Relations Unit, including:

- Press releases on committee work
- Press releases on plenary sessions
